eXpresso™ Announces Debut of eXpresso Pro

Subscription-Based Product Signals Full Release of Web's Leading Collaborative Work Environment for Excel Users; Beta Users Receive 30-Day Free Trial

MENLO PARK, CA – (DATE) – eXpresso™ Corporation, a pioneering provider of online community solutions for businesses, today announced the debut of eXpresso Pro, the full-featured, general availability version of the popular Web-based product. New eXpresso customers will enjoy a free 30-day trial of the breakthrough solution that garnered “Best Of” honors from both PC World and InfoWorld magazines. Current beta users will automatically enjoy a 30-day period of full eXpresso Pro functionality, after which they may either subscribe to Pro or revert to the basic version of eXpresso.

eXpresso, released in beta last summer, uniquely allows users of Microsoft Excel®, the world's most-used spreadsheet application, to upload, distribute and collaborate in real-time on Excel files via the Internet. eXpresso users can not only access their Excel spreadsheets from any PC with an Internet Explorer Web browser, but also authorize others to view or edit the same spreadsheets as needed.

As of March 1, 2008, eXpresso Pro subscribers also enjoy a host of additional features not found in the new “basic” version of eXpresso, including:

- Unlimited Spreadsheet Hosting: Maintain any number of spreadsheet files online (eXpresso Basic users are limited to five online spreadsheets);
- Cell Tracking and Audits: Using the “Track Cells” feature, spreadsheet owners are notified when changes are made, who made the changes, when they were made, and what the pre- and post-change data values are. A complete, auditable history of changes is also maintained for compliance purposes;
- Rollback to Previous Versions: Enables fast recovery or reference to prior iterations;
- eXpresso Plug-in for Excel: Gives users offline access to their online spreadsheets from within Excel, including eXpresso's collaborative and sharing benefits;
- Real-time and Archived Chat: eXpresso's chat feature allows users to chat in real time from within eXpresso, with all messages archived and associated to the spreadsheet;
- Assign Editable Cell Regions: Spreadsheet owners can assign specific “rights” to designated users including “view only”, “edit”, “copy” and “download”, and change rights at any time;

- Set Alerts for Changes: Owners can receive email notification when a user takes a particular action on the owners' spreadsheet.

Discounts Available

The new subscription-based, advertising-free eXpresso Pro is priced at $15 per month, or $79 per year, per user. Discounts are available for groups of ten or more users.

“eXpresso has found itself at the center of the Software-as-a-Service business community movement because it facilitates fast, efficient and dependable collaboration. With Excel still a major tool of global business, people are just beginning to discover the incredible value that eXpresso provides,” said George Langan, chief executive officer of eXpresso. “The debut of eXpresso Pro signals that our service is ready for prime time, and for the heavy use that modern business requires.”

Free Version to Remain

eXpresso is committed to maintaining the free Basic version of eXpresso over the long haul for users who wish to try the software, who have simple business needs, or who only work with spreadsheets occasionally. Like eXpresso Pro, eXpresso Basic allows users to post, share and edit Excel files online and collaborate in real-time with others.
